SUPPORTING OUR VETERANS:

Foxx Pro supports many programs aimed at assisting military veterans and those preparing to separate from active duty. We're very familiar with the high caliber of these men and women who represent some of America's finest and brightest. We're convinced that veterans represent a ready-made pool of exemplary candidates who are perfectly matched for the detailed, highly-disciplined projects at federal and private sector agencies. Members of our Armed Forces embody the holistic qualities of the most sought-after candidates. Highly trained and motivated, they're mission-oriented by nature, diligent, serious and honorable. Their infused respect for authority and disciplined service mentality makes them especially well qualified for detailed work in a high-compliance, security-sensitive environment.
